receiving coloring books from the Transfer department. It was very successful, and I invite any members who attended to speak on that.

J. Matthews attended Omar's event and it was very successful. It was a lot of fun and I met new people as I get to know more people in it. You did a really great job and it helped me when it comes to ideas for my event. Congrats Omar!

K. Caro asks if there are other questions or discussion.

J. Carmona congratulates them on making their first resolution for the Senate, especially in this semester.

VIII. SPECIAL REPORTS:

A. Vice President of University Affairs

J. Carmona had a meeting with faculty. It was a casual meeting for us to meet face to face and get ideas going. There was a lot that I missed in terms of really explaining which is why I am sending a formal document on It's On Us and Hey Be Nice. I encourage everyone to read it and see if you have any ideas or suggestions for those 2 events. I think some of the perspective that each of you have would be really great for Hey Be Nice, especially for the corresponding days. Keep an eye out for my email either by the end of this week or Monday before the semester ends.

B. Chair

K. Caro shares their big accomplishment was being appointed as Chair. I prepare the agendas and chair the meetings which is what I have been doing and becoming familiar with. I have been trying to send out materials earlier therefore I do not have to worry about meeting deadlines. Some goals I have for the next semester is to work more closely with you all, whether it be planning events or helping you write resolutions.

C. Senator of CBE

A. Barragan shares their big accomplishment was hosting my own townhall as it went as best as it could even though there were some difficulties. It was a great learning experience. Another accomplishment was having a financial literacy workshop as I was able to make connections for future workshops. I am talking with people to plan for this upcoming semester for another financial workshop. I really like working with the other Senators and seeing everyone become appointed. I am looking forward next semester with my workshops and resolution writing.

D. Senator of CEAS

K. Caro shares that unfortunately Justin had to leave early, but I will be presenting it on his behalf. His accomplishment from this semester is having his town hall and having discussions with the Dean. He was able to connect with people, counselors and he started preparing for next semester. Speaking of next semester, his goal for next semester is to work on programming with emphasis on diversity and college readiness. He also wants to work with different departments in his college, not just kinesiology and he wants to work closely with the Dean to achieve one of the Dean's goals to create surveys and have more outreach.

E. Senator of CLASS

K. Caro states that Neilah was unable to attend today so we will be moving forward to the next person.

F. Senator of Science

T. Beasley achieves this semester is completing my town hall. My goals for next semester, I want to plan more events. I am speaking with the Dean of the College of Science to have more events in the works. I am waiting to see what will happen with the situation of COVID. I would love to plan more events and have more student involvement.

G. Senator At Large

J. Manlapaz shares their big accomplishment is having a small giveaway because I never knew how to plan events. It was fun to plan this with Tyler and Ashmita. Also, there are a few packages left over if anyone would like to pick them up from the ASI office next week by bringing your Bay Card. I am working with Zaira to post that on Instagram. I was making connections with campus staff this semester which I found to be important. This is to have more information from the staff's perspective and how we can get them to support or fix the issues on campus. I spoke with Andrew Yunker about having First Year students more acclimated to campus life and I want to highlight that we should make an effort to get them to attend events. They are our main target when it comes to attendance for future events. One of the things we could do is come into classrooms and ask if we can announce our events which would increase attendance. My next semester goals are to work with everyone more on what we could do as far as events, resolutions, and ideas.

H. Senator of Alumni Relations

J. Nelsen shares that I have been busy this whole semester. My biggest accomplishment is the Athletics this semester as well as the fundraising that we have pushed with teams across the whole department. My goal is to have more time in the Spring and plan more events based on my mental health as this semester, I was trying to balance everything. I have been talking to other athletes about what they want such as speakers for careers in life after athletics.

J. Senator of Commuter Student

E. Quineri shares that the biggest thing was drafting this resolution with Jillian and with the help of A.J I thought that this is really good opportunity for me to get something rolling. I was working initially with Directors Josh and Andrew to get a campaign, or some sort of event or giveaway done. It would have happened this week, but everything became hectic. Moving forward into the next semester, I am looking forward to reaching out to more of our commuter students from both campuses and fulfilling that overall goal that I have about making sure that commuter students have found an identity and community with East Bay.

K. Senator of Diversity

J. Matthews shares that I accomplished this semester is making more campus connections with faculty and staff. I spent time in a lot of meetings as the Senator of Diversity and during those times, I am the only student. I am happy that I am able to represent my campus and be in the room. Things that I look forward to for next semester is my availability. Hopefully, I am planning on having a lot more availability and in the works of planning my event with the DISC. It is going to be a talk and I have not decided on what topic as I am stuck in between two, but I am super excited about that. Attending Omar's and our events inspired me to think of what I am going to do. Omar had a really good turnout I also look forward to working more with the other senators as well.

L. Senator of Greek Life

J. Young shares this semester, I spent time getting used to the role and planning events for Spring semester. I was able to collaborate with Heather who is the Assistant Department Lead for Student Life and Leadership. I spoke to her about the goals I had for this semester for Greek Life and how we can run things accordingly. Recently, I was able to collaborate and promote funding for clubs and organizations. There should be a post on Instagram about that. Some goals for Spring semester are to roll out our Greek Takeover Tuesday Spotlights starting January 25th. These will be posted weekly on the CSUEB Greek Life page. I am hoping to plan an event by the end of Spring semester to get to know the clubs and Greeks where it would be a get together. Everyone can meet and hang out to promote Greek unity. Also, I want to work on doing mini photo shoots with organizations to have an inventory of stock photos for the future and promotion wise.

M. Senator of International Students

Z. Chan shares my biggest accomplishment is being a part of ASI and meeting the departments I will be working with. I was a part of an international student panel to share about my stay in the United States which is slightly different, but I received feedback and thoughts. It was nice that a social media page was created on the international student website for potential students, and it was a professional staff running it. That person was able to help me create my flyer for my survey as we are trying to have international students input about the issues they face on campaigns. I

IX. ROUND TABLE REMARKS

K. Caro states that headshots will be next Monday which I can help you schedule them. If not, you can go ahead and send me a picture that we can put on the website. Simon and I started doing check in earlier this week and we were able to meet with most of you. Please schedule one with us if you have not already. We are open during break but understand if you do not want to because of upcoming finals week. Our first meeting after Winer Break is January 27th and it is still uncertain if that will be in-person or on Zoom. I will keep everyone updated but make sure to check your emails whenever you can. Good luck on finals and you are all doing so great! You all seem to have great ideas for the next semester which I am proud of you all!

K. Disharoon states there are jackets for you to pick up at the desk with your names on it. Also, this is my Slack which has more channels. Under
